PRODUCER PROFILE:

Bodegas Tradición was founded in 1998 by Joaquín Rivero Valcarce, scion of one of the region's most historically prominent wine families. Bodega CZ, J.M. Rivero was established in the early 1650s, making it one of the oldest firms on record. It's golden age was most certainly the 19th century - in 1855, it housed over 3,000 butts and commercialized a dozen or more world-renowned brands. The bodega's fortunes waned with those of the region, and it was finally sold in 1991 to a Cordoba-based olive oil and vinegar concern, adding it to the long list of historic firms that shuttered in the latter part of the 20th century.

In order to establish its soleras, Tradición bought carefully selected butts from other bodegas. The sources of their current collection are myriad, including, but not limited to, Domecq, Agustín Blazquez, Croft, Delgado Zuleta, Osborne, Paternina, Sandeman and Bobadilla. The component wines were then blended to achieve the desired style.
